NorCal Public Media hosts Public Television travel stars at live events

Northern California Public Media is proud to present two upcoming live events with the stars of public television travel shows on Saturday May 20, 2023 in Santa Rosa, Calif. and on Sunday May 21, 2023 in San Jose, Calif.

Joseph Rosendo, host of the popular and long-running PBS series JOSEPH ROSENDO'S TRAVELSCOPE will be in conversation with Ernest White II, star of the PBS series FLY BROTHER with Ernest White II. The two stars will discuss their shows, share favorite travel stories, and take questions from interested travelers.

Emmy-award winner Joseph Rosendo has been a travel, food and wine journalist and travel broadcaster for 30 years. Currently in its 11th season, JOSEPH ROSENDO'S TRAVELSCOPE has earned multiple Emmy and Telly Awards and Rosendo holds numerous other awards for hosting, writing, directing and production.

Season 11 covers the globe from North America to Africa to Asia. Rosendo hikes Taiwan's Taroko Gorge, partakes in local festivals, goes lobstering with a family in Maine, navigates Ontario, Canada's world heritage Rideau Canal, explores Bangkok and the River Kwai and heads out on a Zambia river and bush safari.

Ernest White II is a storyteller, explorer, executive producer and host of FLY BROTHER with Ernest White II, currently airing in the United States on Public Television Stations and Create TV nationwide. He is also founder and CEO of Presidio Pictures, a new film, television, and digital media studio centering BIPOC, LGBTQ+, and senior/elder narratives.

White is deeply committed to equitable travel. He is one of just seven changemakers named to Conde Nast Traveler's Board of Advisors. He is also a board member of Impact Travel Alliance, the world's largest community for socially and environmentally conscious travelers, and an advisor for Travel Unity, which promotes diversity and inclusion in the travel industry.
